KING EDWARD VII IS DEAD

King Edward Succumbs to an Attack of Bronchial Catarrh, Followed by Pneumonia—Dangerous Stage of Illness Lasted Only Two Days—The Empire Mourns—Prince of Wales Succeeds to the Throne as George V.

Like a thunderbolt from the blue came a dispatch to Kelowna on Friday afternoon, stating that King Edward VII had died that morning. Although no intimation had been given in the papers received from the Coast the previous day that the King's health was in a precarious condition, there was no reason to doubt the authenticity of the message, and the flag was promptly half-masted on the Bank of Montreal, conveying to all who saw it that some great personage had passed away, and the news rapidly spread through the town and surrounding district. The example set was followed by every place in town that could boast a flagstaff and flag, and signs of mourning became general. No particulars as to the cause of death were contained in the telegram, and it was rumoured that the sad event had occurred in Paris. Not until arrival of the Coast papers on Monday were any details available, and it was then ascertained that the King had died at Buckingham Palace at 11.45 p. m., not a. m. as erroneously stated in the dispatch received here, London time being nearly 8 hours ahead of local time.

It seems that the King's health had not been of the best for the past year, and that a bronchial trouble developed which was aggravated by his heavy consumption of strong cigars. Ordinarily, his customary annual visits to the Continent brought him back to Britain refreshed and invigorated, but the weather at Biarritz this year was cold and wet, and he caught a severe cold which developed into bronchitis. Although he sufficiently recovered to resume his walks on the beach at Biarritz and excursions into the country, he was far from well when he returned to London on April 27th. After giving audience to Lord Kitchener on the 28th and attending to various affairs of state, he went to Sandringham for the week-end to rest, returning to Buckingham Palace on Monday evening of last week. He caught a fresh cold on Tuesday evening while dining with the Queen's secretary, and although able to entertain Grand Duke Michael at luncheon the following day, on Thursday he yielded to the persuasions of his physicians and kept to his bedroom, where, however, he received in audience Lord Islington, the newly appointed governor of New Zealand, and other officials.

The seriousness of the King's condition was kept from the public, but the Queen, who had been touring on the Continent, was apprised and hurried to his bedside, and she was within call to the end. A rapid change for the worse set in during Thursday night, and a bulletin issued on Friday morning stated that "His Majesty's condition gives rise to grave anxiety." Occasional spasmodic contractions of the King's throat endangered the blood vessels, and it was thought an operation on the throat would be necessary, but as there was fear that the weakness of the King's heart might result in a fatal issue in any event, it was not attempted. His Majesty gradually grew weaker during the day, and the bulletin issued at 8 p. m., English time, stated, "The King's symptoms have become worse during the day, and His Majesty's condition at this hour is critical." For several hours before his death he was in a comatose condition, but between 9 and 10 o'clock he appeared to rally slightly and to recognise his family, but he soon sank into unconsciousness and in that condition passed away at 11.45 p. m. in the presence of Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess Royal (Duchess of Fife), Princess Victoria and the Duchess of Argyll. His last words had been, during a period of consciousness, "Well, it is all over, but I think I have done my duty."

The Prince of Wales succeeded to the crown, under the law of succession, immediately on death taking place, and his first official act was to telegraph the news of King Edward's death to the Lord Mayor of London, in pursuance of custom. The Privy Council met in the Throne Room of St. James' Palace on Friday afternoon, and the oath was administered by the Lord Chancellor to the new King, who was then proclaimed as sovereign under the style of George V. King George spoke briefly and with deep feeling to the assembled Councillors, and declared that to endeavour to follow in his father's footsteps and at the same time to uphold the constitutional government of the British realms would be the earnest object of his life.

Throughout all Canada tokens of mourning testify to the sincere regret felt by loyal people of the Dominion at the death of their beloved monarch, whose strenuous efforts in the cause of peace rightly earned him the title of "Edward the Peacemaker." From all the far flung Empire and from all the nations of the world tributes to the dead sovereign and condolences with the bereaved Queen Alexandra and King George are pouring in, and all breathe sincere appreciation of the value of King Edward's diplomacy as exerted to preserve harmony in international affairs.

CONDENSED BIOGRAPHY

King Edward was the second child and eldest son of Queen Victoria, and was born at Buckingham Palace on November 9th, 1841, being thus 68 years and 6 months of age, less three days, on the day of his death. In 1860 he paid his one and only visit to Canada, when he laid the foundation stone of the new Parliament Buildings at Ottawa. On March 10th, 1863, he married the beautiful Princess Alexandra of Denmark. The union was blessed by the birth of six children, one of whom died in infancy. The eldest son, Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence, died in January, 1892, FRUIT-GROWERS' ASSOC'N.

Programme For The Season

The re-organization of the Provincial Fruit Growers' Association, during the conference of representative fruit growers recently held at Kam-loops, will result in benefit to the fruit growers of the Province. It is essential to the success of the industry that there should be some common ground on which fruit growers can meet each other and work out the great problems involved in producing a uniformly high grade of fruit, properly packed and distributed by efficient transportation facilities to the best markets. This Association is intended to bring fruit growers together on such a common basis, for mutual aid and assistance along the lines involved in better marketing of our fruit. It is thus really an educational force, but is to be valuable also in securing supplies at lowest prices (send for price list to the Secretary) and in bringing the greatest force to bear in transportation problems. The work of the Association for the present season will be along the following lines—

1. A price list of supplies will be sent to members. This can be used to secure good supplies at the lowest prices.

2. A list of wholesale and retail distributors of our fruit is being prepared for distribution in the next few weeks.

3. Crop reports of the province and of our competitors, especially Oregon, Washington and Ontario, will be distributed monthly, or oftener, if deemed advisable. The Association is issuing a list of shippers and shipping Associations of the Province for distribution among the wholesalers. If you are not included, kindly write, stating amount of fruit available.

4. The Board of Horticulture has kindly consented to give the Association the use of the weekly reports of Market Commissioner J. C. Metcalfe, and these will be sent by wire or letter to affiliated Associations and individual members.

5. A monthly crop and market report of the world's fruit will be published.

6. Any Fruit Growers' Associations in the Province may affiliate on payment of a small fee, and thus secure the benefits mentioned above.
If your district has no local Association and needs one, the officers of the Association will be glad to help you start one on the best basis for success.

7. An annual conference will be held next year at Victoria, to which all members are welcome. This conference will be of great value to all fruit growers.

Any one interested in fruit growing can secure the above advantages by sending one dollar, the annual fee, to the Secretary.

LUCKY IMITATION.

An Experience With the Russian Autocrat Marshal Gourko.

Marshal Gourko, the famous Russian general, was a terrible autocrat. On one occasion an impersonator of celebrated men was performing at a theater in Odessa. One evening he received a mysterious message, which read, "Study General Gourko." In Russia it is better not to inquire into matters that one does not understand, and so the artist spent an hour in privately impersonating the autocratic Russian.

Just as the evening performance was about to commence an order of arrest signed by Gourko was presented to the impersonator, and without explanation he was led through the streets to the marshal's palace and into an apartment where the terrible man was seated. "They tell me that you impersonate celebrated men," he roared.
"Impersonate me!"

Giving a hasty look at Gourko, the performer turned to the mirror to "make up." It was an anxious time, for if the marshal should take exception to the representation he had unlimited power to inflict punishment.
The impersonator dragged himself together and turned to the marshal a copy of his own face and overbearing manner. Gourko burst into a roar of laughter, and the dangerous moment was over.

EELS IN JAPAN.

The Restaurant Cook Catches Alive the Fish the Patron Selects.

Entering a Japanese restaurant, a guest who wishes broiled eels and rice is led to a tank of squirming fresh water eels and bidden to point out the object of his preference, says a writer in the Delmonico. The cook, who stands by, selects the wriggling victim of his choice, strikes its head smartly upon a wooden block and, squatting by it, grasps the creature's neck, inserts a knife in the left side of the vertebrae and dexterously runs it down to the tail, then, rapidly applying his instrument to the other side of the backbone, repeats the process, leaving the eel split open.

Then, chopping the flattened eel into three inch lengths, the pieces are dumped into boiling water to make the skin tender, long bamboo splints used as skewers are thrust through them, and they are then placed on rods over glowing charcoal and broiled brown, being plunged from time to time into a vessel that contains old soy of the color and consistency of molasses.
These preparations concluded, the steaming eels again are drained and placed in red lacquer boxes with rice and set before the customer.

this Association, it is the privilege and duty of every fruit grower to associate himself with it, and do his part in making it a success. The advantages of membership outweigh immensely the cost of the same. Every fruit grower should use his influence to make the Association a valuable one.

LIGHTNING A MYSTERY

This Phenomenon of Nature Is a Puzzle to Science.

THE THEORY OF THUNDER.

In a General Way It Is Understood; but, as a Matter of Fact, the Bolt From the Storm in Its Erratic Tendency Defies the Investigator.

In a general way we understand the theory of thunderstorms. As a matter of fact, there is no phenomenon of nature, but excepting even earthquakes, of which we know so little.
Man-made lightning—that is, electricity of the highest power, which we can artificially produce—will act according to certain known laws. It will, for instance, travel along a conductor of metal.

But a flash of lightning will frequent leap from a well defined metal path and launch itself through the air or some adjacent object which is an infinitely poorer conductor.

This may be due to the almost inconceivable force of a flash of lightning, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly. It is estimated that a flash of lightning a mile long represents a pressure of discharge equal to 3,000, 000,000 volts.

As such a flash lasts only about the thousandth part of a second the energy dissipated by the discharge is equal to 300,000 horsepower. Put in other words, if we could find some means of saving and using lightning we should be the richer by a good round sum for every flash.

Lightning is, as we know, usually accompanied by a peal of thunder, which is louder the nearer the bearer is to, the point of the discharge, but this is not an invariable rule. There are cases on record of most destructive lightning flashes which were unaccompanied by sound.

Such a phenomenon occurred at Bradford some years ago. What is described as "a silent thunderbolt" fell in a graveyard, destroying one monument and smashing to atoms nearly seventy glass cases containing wreaths and flowers.

In the same summer Swanscombe, in Kent, was terrified by a freak of lightning. All of a sudden "a great mass of blue fire" swept along the street, and next moment it was seen that the fine old parish church, built nearly 700 years ago, had been struck.

The building, with all its fine old carved oak, was soon a roaring furnace, and only a part of the chancel was saved.

Scientists are still hopelessly at sea as to the cause of that peculiar phenomenon known as globe lightning. At Coventry some years ago during a violent thunderstorm it passed along a street like a soap bubble built of blue fire and drifted into a shed, where it exploded, blowing the roof off the place.

At Rheims, in France, a similar fire ball came into a cobbler's shop through the open window. The solitary occupant of the place sat perfectly still, paralyzed with terror, while his fearful visitor hovered for several seconds overhead. Then it moved toward the fireplace and presently passed up the chimney.

Next moment there was an explosion like a shell bursting, and the upper part of the chimney came crashing down.

Not long ago Count G. Hamilton made a record of a similar freak of electricity. He was sitting at dinner at a house on Lake Wener, in Sweden, when just after a vivid flash of light along a brilliant white ball appeared over the table and after hanging poised there for some seconds went off with a loud bang.

Fortunately it did no harm to any one, although it was quite close to several people. Those who saw it suggested it was like a ball of cold lightning.

In November, 1902, Sydney, Australia, was visited by a terrific dust storm, in the midst of which a perfect rain of electric fire balls began to fall.
These set fire to a number of houses, and a most appalling panic set in. A cry was raised that the end of the world was at hand, and people rushed out of their houses into the ink black, dust deep streets.

The most amazing and terrifying displays of the power of lightning are seen on mountains. In 1890 a party was on the top of a mountain in the Caucasus when a huge violet ball, surrounded by vivid rays, struck a rock near by and, exploding like a bomb, burst into atoms. One of the party was badly hurt.

Stilton Cheese.

The secret of making Stilton cheese was for some time confined to the family of the original inventors, who were under an engagement to sell all they could make to the famous Cooper Thornhill of Stilton. Being thus to be obtained of him alone, it received the appellation of Stilton cheese, but it would have been more appropriately named White cheese, being first made in that village, on the eastern side of Leicestershire, about thirty miles from Stilton.—London Standard.

Westbank Notes

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Dobbin's strawberries are looking splendid and promise a good crop.

The sawmill is being rapidly rebuilt on a larger and more roomy scale than before.

Mr. and Mrs. H. de Lantour are temporarily residing on the Clarence property.

The recent frost seems to have done little or no damage in this district, so far as can be ascertained.

Mr. D. S. Strang, one of our earliest settlers, will leave the district shortly, probably for Victoria. His presence will be missed.

The high winds at the end of last week raised the dust in clouds, much to the discomfort of the residents on the townsite.

Elision District Notes

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Hay has finished setting out his fruit trees.

We are pleased to see Miss O'Reilly has recovered from her attack of la-grippe.

Mr. Jas. McKenna and his brother intend leaving by saddle on Thursday next for Fort George.

Mr. Lloyd and his son, from Oyama, were at Mr. M. Heron's on Thursday and purchased a few fine pigs.

Mr. Geo. Stirling returned Saturday from Salmon Arm, where he has been arranging the purchase of some land.

Munson's mill closed down on Saturday owing to shortage of logs. Mr. Schwab will still remain in charge.

While riding on the range after horses on Sunday, one of Mr. Bulman's men had a nasty accident. His horse fell and threw him, breaking his wrist.

Mr. and Mrs. McQueen left last Wednesday for a trip to Naramata and returned Friday. They intend leaving for that point next Wednesday with their family, but will probably return in about three months.

School Inspector Miller visited our school on Tuesday, but we regret he does not think it advisable to recommend a two-room school at present. He proposes making enquiries as to the cost of altering the present building, and if it is not feasible to make a satisfactory job he will recommend a new one-room building.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Not much in some cases, but when choosing

A New Name For Dry Valley

it means everything.

Mothers often have difficulty in deciding on a suitable name for a promising baby boy. They can think of none that will cover all his good points. The Officers of the Central Okanagan Lands, Limited, are in just the same predicament in choosing a more suitable name for Dry Valley, and to overcome this difficulty they have decided to offer for what in their opinion is the most appropriate name suggested for this lovely district.

Each competitor is allowed to send in not more than five names. The only condition attached being that he must have visited the Valley within two months previous to the 12th instant at noon when the competition closes. No Officers of the Company are allowed to compete.

AT LAST

It may be your privilege to own a Fruit Farm in the famous "Dry Valley" District.

So many Kelowna people, and others all over the country, have been asking when we should be ready to put this beautiful property on the market, that we have decided to cut up about three hundred acres of the pick of the Valley into which we shall offer for sale about the end of this week, when the maps can be seen at our office. These lots all lie within a mile of the City Limits and command a magnificent view of the lake, town and surrounding country. No finer spot could be chosen for A SUBURBAN HOME, and no more fertile soil for an orchard.

The Water System Now Being Installed

Our Company having set to work early in the year to put the water on this land, have already opened two miles of the main canal, and with the large forces at present at work, fully expect to have the ditch complete to the City limits by the end of this year, so that purchasers of the new subdivision are assured of water for next season.

The source of supply is our large storage dam at the headwaters of Mill Creek, and the water is to be conveyed across Mill Valley in a 32 inch riveted steel pipe, and distributed over the land by concrete lined ditches and cement pipe. A natural storage basin sufficient to hold about 500 acre-feet of water, situated at the upper end of the Valley, will be used for a domestic supply. The waste, overflow and seepage will be taken care of by laying a cement tile drain down through the lowest part of the Valley.

Having had a large experience in the growing of tobacco leaf we have decided to open a factory at Kelowna for the manufacture of cigars to be made from the leaf grown in the District. There is a large and increasing demand for cigars made from Kelowna tobacco and it is our desire to fulfill this want and this we purpose doing by establishing an up-to-date factory, employing only skilled workmen. Lovers of the weed who purchase our brands may rely on getting a cigar with taste, aroma and fragrance unequalled in any cigar made. KING EDWARD VII IS DEAD

Boer war. To his efforts alone may be attributed the "entente cordiale" between Britain and France, which exerts such a mighty influence in preserving the balance of power in Europe, and his minor diplomatic achievements are too numerous to recount.

Every inch a king, but at the same time free of all hauteur. Edward VII was endeared to his subjects by his bonhomie, his liberality of views and tolerance and his thorough love of all sports of the open air, both on land and water. Three times his racing colours were first in the Derby, twice as Prince of Wales and once as King, and his famous racing yacht, the "Britannia," carried the broom at her mast-head in many a regatta. He was an excellent shot and dearly loved a day on the Highland moors with gun or rifle.

THE NEW KING

His Gracious Majesty King George V was born June 3rd, 1865, and married, on July 6, 1893, Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, who now becomes Queen Victoria. Of the marriage six children have been born, five boys and one girl. The eldest son, now Duke of Cornwall by virtue of his birth, will no doubt be created Prince of Wales before long. He was born June 23rd, 1894, and is now serving as a naval cadet.

Owing to the fact that until nine years ago King George occupied a somewhat inconspicuous position in public life, as the grandson of Queen Victoria, in comparison with that occupied by his father, who was virtually Regent so far as many of the public duties of the monarch were concerned, he has not had the long training in public life enjoyed by King Edward, and during the reign of the latter he had few important duties delegated to him apart from visits to Canada, to India and to Australia, where he opened the first Parliament of the United Commonwealth. His tastes and habits are therefore not so well known, but it is understood that he is less democratic than the late sovereign and not so fond of sport and social enjoyment. It is therefore predicted that there will be fewer of the court gaieties with which King Edward brightened his reign in contrast to the gloom that hung over palace life from the time of Queen Victoria's widowhood.

The altar of St. Michael and All Angels was draped on Sunday last, and the Rector, Rev. T. Greene, made special reference to the King's death. A memorial service will be held in the church on the day of King Edward's funeral, which will probably be on Friday, May 20th.

Messrs. Reg. Crook and M. Wilson took their departure on Tuesday for Saskatchewan, where they will locate homesteads in some country soon to be opened up by a line of railway. A large number of friends saw them off, and they received many wishes for good luck in their venture.

A meeting for the organization of a Lawn Tennis Club will be held in the offices of Hewitson & Mantle on Saturday, 14th May, at 5.30 p.m. All who desire to see a strong local club formed to take over the grounds laid out by Dr. Boyce last fall, are invited to attend.—Con.

Mr. Geo. Ritchie has received the contract to erect a fruit-packing establishment for Messrs. Stirling & Pitcairn in town. The building will be a large one, requiring about 60,000 feet of lumber in its construction, and the contract calls for its completion by June 15th.

The Juvenile Bostonians appeared in Raymer's Hall on Tuesday night under the auspices of the Kelowna Band and played to a well-filled house. The youngsters put on a light comedy and some of them performed their parts in a manner that would put to rebuke so-called stars of some companies that have visited Kelowna in the past.

On Saturday last the Soccer Team visited Summerland and played a game with the team of that town, winning by one goal, the score being 3-2. The Kelowna team kicked uphill and against the wind the first half and at half time the score was one goal each. In the second half Kelowna soon rushed two goals through, but the Summerland team roused themselves and added another goal to their score and played fast and hard but were unable to equalize.

Rev. Dr. Spencer, superintendent of the Local Option League of B. C., spent Sunday in town and district and preached in the Baptist Church Sunday morning and in the Methodist church in the evening. After the evening service a meeting of those interested in the temperance movement was called and the following were appointed officers of the Kelowna branch of the league: Pres. J. A. Bigger; Vice-Pres. D. McEachren; Sec. J. H. Mohr; Treas. J. B. Knowles.

Local friends of Dr. K. C. McDonald, of Vernon, are delighted to hear of his appointment to the responsible position—in a province with such a large Indian population as B. C.—of Inspector of Indian Agencies for the Mainland. It is understood his headquarters will be at Vancouver, although he will not leave Vernon for some time. While regretting that we are to lose the genial Doctor, the "Courier" joins heartily in the congratulations upon his appointment, which he will fill with ability and credit to the selection made.

The Vernon High School lacrosse team paid a visit to town on Saturday last and administered an awful trouncing in the City Park to our local High School team to the tune of 9 goals to 1. Vernon scored 4 goals in the first quarter to Kelowna's 0. In the second quarter, Kelowna scored their one and only goal and held Vernon down to no score. Vernon, however, piled on four more goals in the third quarter and added another in the last period. Our boys were simply outplayed. The game was free from roughness and was played in a sportsmanlike way throughout. Mr. G. Fuller made a satisfactory referee.

Granby mining stock dropped to $38 on the Boston exchange last week. The shares of the famous Phoenix mine once stood at $140, and no satisfactory reason has yet been given for their sudden and remarkable drop in value.

The Convention of the W. C. T. U. of the Okanagan Valley will be held in Armstrong on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 1st, 2nd and 3rd June. So far as is known, over 50 delegates will be in attendance.

Hon. W. J. Bowser has announced that the Provincial Government will not sell any more of its property in the townsite of Prince Rupert this year, and it is understood the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company will follow the same course with its holdings. With no more land on the market, property values are expected to stiffen and trading generally will be more active.

Rev. Dr. Ferguson, of Nelson, was elected Moderator for the ensuing year at the nineteenth annual meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of British Columbia, held at Vancouver last week. There was a large attendance of ministers and elders from all over the province. The secretary's report showed that in all 75 ordained ministers are now doing duty in British Columbia.

Mr. C. M. Woodworth, one of the leading Conservatives of Vancouver, has written the "News-Advertiser," rebuking that Conservative journal for daring to defend the gift of $120,000 lately made to the Hon. Mr. Fielding by friends irrespective of party, and declaring that no newspaper which attacks members of the Conservative party for criticising in parliament the presentation can well be considered a friend of the party—at least in that regard.

For some time past there has been considerable confusion regarding the name of Savona, the post office having been known as "Savona" and the railway station as "Savonas." The matter having been brought to the attention of the railway company, it has been found that the name given by the post office authorities is correct, a ferry across the Thompson river having been established by Savona in 1863. The railway company, therefore, in the interests of uniformity, have agreed to delete the final letter "s," and the station will in future be known as Savona.—Kamloops Standard.

Mr. E. J. Chamberlin, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co., arrived in Vancouver on Friday from an inspection trip of the progress of the line in the north, and expressed himself as being very well pleased with what has been accomplished. Steel is laid nine miles out from Prince Rupert, and it is expected that by the end of July the line will be completed as far as Copper River, a distance of 100 miles from the terminus. When this becomes a fact, a train service will be inaugurated. The late winter months, Mr. Chamberlin believes, will see trains running direct from Hazelton to the end of the upper section, 200 miles from the Coast.

Commander Peary lectured to an audience of over 10,000 persons in the Albert Hall, London, on May 4th, under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society. He received a demonstrative welcome, the people rising and bursting into cheers and waving flags and handkerchiefs. The explorer's voice reached the furthest limits of the hall, and he was followed throughout with close attention.

An earthquake lasting four seconds did tremendous destruction in the city of Cartago, Costa Rica, on May 4th. So far as learned, nearly every house and building was destroyed, including four churches and the palace of the Central American Peace Court, the gift of Andrew Carnegie. Many people were caught in the falling ruins, and the loss of life is estimated at not less than 1,500. Some reports place the wounded at several thousands. The monetary losses will reach into the millions.

In spite of the diminishing birth rate and the constant flow of emigration, the population of the United Kingdom continues to grow. In 1881, it was 34,884,848. In 1909 it was estimated to be 45,008,421. The population per square mile is 342.4, while that of Canada is 1.4.

The Diet of Finland, on Saturday, refused to accept the bill submitted by the Russian government, providing for extension of the authority of the Russian Duma over Finland in matters of general and imperial interest, and in consequence the Diet will probably be dissolved.

Secretary Knox and British Ambassador Bryce last week exchanged ratifications of the International Waterways treaty, which relates to the use of waters on the boundary between the United States and Canada. By the treaty, a tribunal of arbitration between the United States and Canada is created, by which questions of differences between them concerning only the two countries will be settled by their own representatives without resort to outside intervention. The treaty is to remain in force five years and thereafter until terminated upon twelve months' written notice given by either government.

The Dominion parliament prorogued on Wednesday of last week, and the proceedings were marked by presentation of a farewell address to Earl Grey on completion of his term as Governor-General. The address was read in English by Speaker Kerr of the Senate and in French by Speaker Maril of the Commons, and Earl Grey was evidently moved when he responded to the sentiments of appreciation of his administration and regret at his departure contained in it. It is understood that he will not return to England before next October, as he contemplates visiting the west during the summer.

Captain Bernier, who leaves next month in command of the Canadian government ship "Arctic" on a trip of exploration through the country christened "Bradley Land" by Dr. Cook, will bring back from Etah the cases belonging to the explorer, left there by Harry Whitney when Commander Peary declined to give them room on board his ship. It is Captain Bernier's intention to follow, as far as he can, Dr. Cook's trail, in an effort to ascertain the accuracy of Cook's assertions and observations. Theodore Cook, brother of the discredited explorer, has announced that whatever may be the result of Capt. Bernier's expedition, he will abide by the verdict.
